TEAMSTERS REJECT UNITED AIRLINES' INSULTING CONTRACT PROPOSAL

Technicians Vote Down Carrier's Proposal to Cut Wages, Outsource Work to China

(WASHINGTON) – The following is a statement from Teamsters General President Sean M. O'Brien and Teamsters Airline Division Director Chris Griswold on United Airlines Teamsters' overwhelming rejection of the carrier's latest disgraceful economic proposal. 99.5 percent of Teamsters voted to reject this greedy carrier's attempts to cut their wages and send their work to communist China.

"United Airlines' executives think they can strong-arm 10,000 Teamsters technicians into accepting a terrible deal. Instead, our members just sent a clear message that this company can't ignore. United's radical, un-American contract proposal is dead on arrival.

"United raked in $4 billion in profits last year off the backs of highly skilled, hardworking Teamsters who keep planes flying safely. Rather than reward them, United wants to gut good American jobs and gamble with safety.

"United's short-sighted cash grab reflects everything that's wrong with Big Business at a time when we should be bringing back jobs to America.

"The Teamsters Union isn't just fighting for a fair contract — we're fighting for the future of the American aviation industry. We won't back down. United must return to the table and put American workers first."

Founded in 1903, the International Brotherhood of Teamsters represents 1.3 million hardworking people in the U.S., Canada, and Puerto Rico. Visit Teamster.org for more information. Follow us on X @Teamsters and on Facebook at Facebook.com/teamsters.
